The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Hershkowitz et al '489. No distinction is seen between the process disclosed by Hershkowitz et al '489, and that recited in applicants' claims. Face-mix gas injector means 11 of Hershkowitz et al '489 would constitute a gas distributor, and methane passages 23 and oxygen passages 22 would constitute a plurality of channels having a plurality of outlets. (See Fig. 1 and col. 10, line 39 to col. 11, line 18. Hershkowitz et al '489 disclose at col. 5, lines 16-55 that the gases are contacted with a partial oxidation catalyst. Applicants' claims do not exclude the formation of a gaseous premix as disclosed by Hershkowitz et al '489.

Claims 17, 18 and 29-38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hershkowitz et al '489. Hershkowitz et al '489 is relied upon as discussed hereinbefore. It would be prima facie obvious to employ at least 20 outlets for each of the methane and oxygen per square foot in the gas distributor of Hershkowitz et al '489, since it would be within the skill of one of ordinary skill in the art to determine a suitable or optimum number of outlets for the gases.. Regarding claims 17, 18 and 29-31, Hershkowitz et al '489 discloses from col. 14 line 57 to col. 15, line 10 that the formed synthesis gas may be used to form liquid hydrocarbons by the Fischer-Tropsch reaction.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 17, 18 and 29-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. It is indefinite as to whether the gas distributor recited in claim 17 would require at least 25 outlets per square foot, since this limitation is in a "whereby" clause and accordingly is not given patentable weight. The word "whereby" should be changed to - - wherein - - to avoid this rejection.

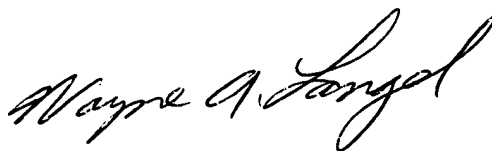

The other references are made of record for disclosing various gas distributors for chemical reactions.
